

One Day at a Time Activity Planner

One of the hardest adjustments during self-isolation or quarantine is the change to our regular routine. Gently introducing a daily routine that includes time for mental and physical activities, connection with others, and self-care can help.

Caring for your Body

Try an online gym class or follow along on Youtube with your household

Gently stretch for 5-10 mins

Stand and walk around the home to take breaks from sitting

Spend time in the sun (even if this is sitting at a window) and feel the warmth on your skin

Practise meditation or yoga

Stand up for a few minutes while reading or watching TV

Try strength exercises like tricep dips, sit-ups and planks that use your own bodyweight

Put on your favourite music and dance for some aerobic exercise

Take screen breaks! Move away from phones and computers to look out your window when you can

REST!

Connecting with Others

Throw a Virtual Movie Night and pick a movie to watch at the same time as friends and family

Play an online board game with a worthy opponent!

Call or leave a voice message for someone you care about

Find a pen pal through an online community

Start a virtual book club

Listen to free audiobooks from your library website and discuss them with a friend

Play a multiplayer video game

Schedule a virtual lunch date or take your household on a 'date'

Order someone a gift and send it to their home as a surprise!

Start a exercise group and subscribe to a online workout series

Start a daily home photo challenge with a friend
